

We are delighted to be able to inform you that, following a successful meeting today the outstanding technical issues associated with the planning application have been finalised with the planning officers and all is looking positive to achieve submission and validation early in the new year.

The MUGA works are also progressing well and are due for completion in March 2016.

The focus on delivery of the new building is for Easter 2017 and the project team are working hard to achieve this. Year 3 places will be available within the school from 2016 in the alternative demountable accommodation.

The architects on this project have produced a great design utilising a redundant space to the west side of the school, enhancing the environment and space for the children of Reigate Parish Church School. The image below demonstrates a flavour of how this space will be used in relation to the existing building and the new sports pitch.

We will update you again, as soon as we are able, but this will be early in the New Year to confirm the planning validation for the building.
